The graph shows the relationship between workload and experiment number for two different systems: Sys_Const and Sys_Inc. Sys_Const remains constant regardless of the experiment number, while Sys_Inc shows a linear increase with increasing experiment number.